Professional Profile:

I'm a young and accomplished individual who is dedicated to developing their passions within games, development, audio-visual art, food, and I am currently looking to explore a new opportunity. I have a wide array of experience in games programming, higher education teaching, semi-professional esports, streaming, and outstanding food service. Throughout my experiences, I have honed my professionalism, communication, and teamwork skills which I am eager to apply to a new role where I can develop myself further. I am enthusiastic about learning new skills and expanding my professional horizons. I thrive in fast-paced environments, enjoy interacting with people and push myself to produce work to its highest standard. I have honed my attention to detail and creative eye with precision and excellence, traits which I believe will serve me well in my future endeavors. I strive to be the best I can be. I am open to criticism and am always looking to learn and improve myself to produce a product, art, or work to the best of my ability as I take pride in what I create. I am excited to bring my unique set of skills, experience, and enthusiasm to a new opportunity, and am eager to learn, grow, and contribute to your team.
